This morning I woke up in a lot of pain. I fell through the floor in my last place and broke my neck many years ago. I have not discussed my medical condition with the police, I think because I consider legal and medical to be separate, but this morning I recalled a circumstance that's directly related to the invasions of privacy and the stalking. I was making the same complaints at the time and I was under a lot of pressure to go to mental health, though I was certain the cause of my condition was situational and environmental. My neighbors were cooking up meth regularly and I was getting harassed. I didn't need mood stabilizers. I needed law enforcement, but nobody would help.

When I suffered my injury, I needed a doctor. I went to the Corvallis Clinic up by the hospital and I was seen by a woman named Linda. I don't remember her last name but it can be looked up, and I have since learned that she was living here in Space #75. I think she was part of the eavesdropping, as she insisted that I go to mental health and she literally mocked me. She accused me of lying about my pain to get attention and ushered me to the door with a pamphlet and a 1-800 number for referral. Calling that number, the State put me in touch with Renee Edwards who has the Village People medical office on 4th Street near Starbucks. At first, she went above and beyond, even coming to my place to see about environmental concerns. She thought there was a chemical smell there and agreed about the possibility of environmental causes. We set up an x ray at the hospital, but there they said it looked like scoliosis since birth. A chiropractor had said it was two vertebrae compounded and that one had come out of alignment that was causing the nerve damage. I was mostly paralyzed on my left side. He thought it was preceded by the onset of osteoporosis, that my bones were already breaking down prior. The bouts of inflammation and chronic pain had started since I came here to Highland View, and I had already been pursuing environmental concerns before falling through the floor.

Then, I went to see Renee at a time slot I thought she had available, but I was surprised to find none other than Leticia herself in a meeting there, not happy that I'd seen her there. I came back for a scheduled appointment I had some days later to discuss getting a blood test, but I was summarily dismissed. My doctor, who turned out to be a nurse practitioner, would not make eye contact with me and referred me to the County, saying I could get whatever tests I wanted there. This is what preceded my trip to Mexico for medical care. There, one of the best doctors I've ever had told me that, in fact, it's bad medical practice to treat someone for a mental condition without first exhausting every possible physical cause. A biopsy of the spot where I may have been shot in the head came up with an 'unremarkable brown spec', but she said the results showed the presence of a protein that comes from an overactive immune system. Basically, her theory is that my body is breaking down rapidly from having been very sick in the past causing a surplus of the death antigen.

Anyway, I have not had further medical care there or anywhere since long before Covid, and I have not had a blood test since I arrived here in Corvallis. I have been providing my own health care for many, many years and my health has improved since I took it out of the hands of doctors. I don't know what records may have been kept, or if this is of any legal interest, but any record of medical care in recent years - or mental health care - would certainly be evidence of fraud. I'm writing this to provide additional information about the stalking, anyway, and I don't know what the laws are governing health care and privacy. But as Winter is coming and I don't know if I'll make it through without a cane, it's that much more important to find some resolve in my social situation. I'll be home this morning if there are any questions, and then I plan to work until the evening.
