

Indigo Michaud <skyoptic6@gmail.com>

Suspicious Vehicle

1 message

skybox <skyoptic6@gmail.com>

Mon, Sep 19, 2022 at 7:31 AM

To: police@corvallisoregon.gov

Over the weekend, I saw a vehicle in town that looks remarkably like mine. While that might not be uncommon for most people, I drive a very unique vehicle. I have a 76-ish Jeep DJ5 with a modified grill from an old Ford bread truck and the windshield from a '55 Volkswagen bus, currently without doors.

Recently, a couple of people asked about what kind of car I was driving and then said, 'oh, I thought it was a Toyota'. One guy pulled up next to me and asked what kind of car I was driving, and I told him it was an AM General, American Auto... 'but who makes it?', he asks... 'I just told you', I replied, and then the light tuned. Usually, I just hear 'cool Jeep' twenty times a day.

Then on Saturday, I saw why. There's a newly painted Toyota Land Cruiser in town that happens to be painted very close to the same colors as mine, which is an amazing coincidence. It's not stock for either manufacturer - Chrysler blue and Old Ford white.

I have to wonder if this was done for legal reasons to create a shadow of doubt on positively identifying me, and there have been lookalike issues in the past. I think I may have been framed for crimes I didn't commit, too.

Whatever the case, my Jeep is out of commission for a few days, but I work as a doordash driver and I'm usually seen all over town. I'm sure everything is probably legitimate, anyway, but... if you get calls about illegal parking, reckless driving, unsafe passing, or speeding, I can assure you it's probably the Toyota.

This is just FYI, pictures attached.

Indigo Michaud

4 attachments

DSC_0038.jpg

7187K

IMG_20220917_173658109.jpg

3704K

IMG_20220917_173650806.jpg
3763K

IMG_20220917_173637403.jpg
3985K